Dear Players,

I have coached basketball for more than forty years. During this time, I have coached athletes at every level from first grade through college. I feel one of my greatest coaching strengths is in the development of skills in young players. I have put together a "system" of teaching the fundamentals of basketball that is unique and thorough. Bob Amendola has worked closely with this system. We are looking forward to working with you and helping you to develop the skills necessary to "achieve your basketball dreams."
